

Working Together Ideas

Friday 27th November 2015

1. Now that the weather is changing and it is becoming much colder, we have been looking at the differences that we can see in our environment. Next week we will be beginning to look more closely at ice. Can you talk to a grown up at home and think about 3 questions that you would like to find out more information about. For example: Where does ice come from?

2. As it is December next week, we will be beginning our countdown advent calendar. To reinforce our days of the week, the date and the month- please can you talk to your child and create diary for what you/they do each day and focus on what the date, day and month is. Each diary entry can be brief and can be in the form of writing or pictures with labels.
